Greetings

Silly Memory is a free puzzle game that revisits the concept of the « Match-pairs » Memory game, combining a dynamic gameplay to a humorously-narrated adventure in space. Play as Gorzbul, an alien who is trying to find a path to Earth, intercepting transmissions sent through space by the Humans. Along the way you will meet several eccentric characters, that will help you – or not – to deal with these transmissions! And for scoring enthusiasts, there are weekly challenges and an Endless mode to test the player's logic and swiftness, and reach the highest ranks of the leaderboard!

CDO Apps has released Silly Memory's first big update, which brings many tweaks and balances to the gameplay to improve in-game experience! This update has been made thanks to many insightful post-launch feedbacks we've received, which helped us improve further the gameplay's dynamic mechanics. For the record, we've hit the top30 iOS games in France during the first launch week, along with an average rating of 4,6/5!! 😊

We would be honored to have Silly Memory reviewed and hear about your feedback. If you're interested in reviewing Silly Memory, here's the press kit that will provide core information and assets about the game: https://www.cdo-apps.com/en/2019/07/17/silly-memory/
