

Tower Kingdom has been Released!

IMBlank has officially announced its new release of “Tower Kingdom” – A phenomenal Free to Play MMO tower defence game!

Conquer the world as the strongest tower builder and compete with other players to rival them with your acquired skills and knowledge. Choose from one of four factions and make your way up, to become the Master Tower Builder you are! Progressing through levels will see you acquire experience and equipment to level and strengthen your character.

Dive into the world of Tower Kingdom and experience the term "Tower Defence" as you have never done before, with several features completely unique to the Tower Defence genre. These features include crafting, power utilisation, equipment and structured support towers that will give you a new and refreshed feeling. A fully controlled player market, allows you to buy and sell unwanted equipment to purchase that Legendary item you have always wanted. Each map has bosses, who drop chests, depending on the difficulty level you chose. The higher the difficulty level, the better the rewards in the chests.

As you play and progress through the various levels you will level up and become stronger, allowing you to use higher level equipment to strengthen your character. Compete with other players in survival mode to earn weekly and monthly rewards as well as chest drops from your enemies.

Tower Kingdom is finally here!
