

Walking Tourist

June 21, 2017 - Melbourne, VIC, Australia - August Junkala has announced his next game, "Walking Tourist" for Apple and Android devices.

Your friend is coming for a visit and it is up to you to find places to see through the thronging masses of the city. In Walking Tourist you politely (or not so politely) step through different settings with different crowds. You want to get through quickly, but shortcuts through the grass, blocking others, or outright shoving is frowned upon. Along the way are various things to pick up and spots to snap pictures of.

Walking Tourist is designed for Apple and android devices best adapted for tablets. The game will launch June 22, 2017 in both Apple App Store and GooglePlay for $2 AUD.

Walking Tourist is August Junkala's second mobile release. A veteran of the game industry, he has taken a few years to work on smaller, personal projects such as Walking Tourist. He currently works Melbourne, Australia but deepless misses the blizzards from his home back in Canada.
